(With Apologies to F. C. K.)

Say,
Now,
Don't you really think
You can in some way link
The classical name of Smith
With that of myth-Ology?
We'll make no apology
If you'll only try
Before you die
To send the fair name of Smith
Smyth
Smythe or
Smithers
Ringing down the corridors of time.
We don't care
How or where
You do it
What is wanted
Sadly
And badly
Is to have our name planted
Surely and securely
In the Hall of Fame.

And why not? One of us founded the first English settlement in America, in 1607, and there are six hundred thousand of us here today, without counting our German cousins, the Schmitts, Schmits, Schmiths, Schmitzes, Schmids, Schmidths, Smits and Schmidts; our French cousins, the Le Fevers; the Fabronis from Italy, the Gonsulus from Spain, the Smithtowskies from Russia, nor the Gavans or Gowans from Ireland and Scotland.

PREFACE

The primary object of this book is to show the line of descent of the author's children from their first ancestor in the male line in this country, as follows:

Ralph ¹ Smith, of Hingham, Mass.
Thomas ² Smith, of Eastham, Mass.
Jesse ³ Smith, Sr., of Dutchess Co., N. Y.
Jesse ⁴ Smith, Jr., of Dutchess Co., N. Y.
James Phillips ⁵ Smith, of Dutchess Co., N. Y.
Ambrose ⁶ Smith, of Fayetteville, N. Y.
Platt Hiram ⁷ Smith, of Fayetteville, N. Y.
L Bertrand ⁸ Smith, of Brooklyn, N. Y.
Ladye Katharine ⁹ Smith.
Howard Malcom ⁹ Smith.

There have been added the names and records of all ancestors, other than the above, which the author has been able to obtain, and also the names and records of nearly all descendants of Jesse Smith, Jr., in both male and female lines. The arrangement may seem confusing at first glance, but the author believes that with a little examination it will be found quite simple. Each family has been given a number which will be found in its proper place in consecutive order.

The material gathered by the author relating to the descendants of Ralph Smith will appear in a later edition, after a more exhaustive search has been made. Only the families of the second generation from Ralph are recorded in this edition.

For several years after the writer's first attempt to trace his ancestors of the name of Smith he was unable to make any progress, beyond the "Dutchess County families," owing to a vague tradition, the most that parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles could give, which directed him to Long Island as the proper locality for research. He devoted many hours in the libraries of

New York and vicinity, looking for the connecting link between his ancestors in Dutchess County and the great colony of Smiths at Smithtown, Long Island, knowing well that if he succeeded in tracing the line to that locality he would then have to unravel a tangle which has defeated many careful genealogists. All work done on the Long Island families was declared useless and all of the material gathered was thrown away, upon finding in an old note book, made by Anna Smith, daughter of Captain Ephraim Smith, and now in possession of Miss Geneva Armstrong, the following memorandum: "James Phillips came from Cape Cod with Jesse Smith. He had one son and he married Sylla Smith, the daughter of Jesse Smith."

This clue led to a visit to Cape Cod and an inspection of the old records at Orleans, Mass., where the record of the births of the children of Jesse Smith was found and among them the "Sylla" (Priscilla) mentioned above.

In Volume IV of the "Mayflower Descendant," at page 141, was found the record of births of the children of Thomas Smith, the father of Jesse.

This book contains copies of wills, documents, etc., which prove each generation of the line of descent, shown above, down to the writer's grandfather, Ambrose Smith.

The writer will appreciate any corrections or additions which may be sent to him.

CHAPTER I

THE CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH OUR FIRST ANCESTOR LIVED IN AMERICA

CHAPTER I

THE CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH OUR FIRST ANCESTOR LIVED IN AMERICA

Ralph Smith came from Hingham, Norfolk County, England, in 1633, and was one of the first settlers of Hingham, Plymouth County, Massachusetts. Of this there can be no doubt. Mr. Daniel Cushing in his record states that "Ralph came from Old Hingham, 1633, and lived in this town." Mr. Cushing placed the figure (1) after Ralph's name, indicating that he brought no family with him. His name first appears upon the Hingham records in 1637, when he drew a house-lot on "Batchelor Row," (now Main street,) at or near Pear Tree Hill, the steep bluff at the beginning of the "Lower Plain." This grant of land was bounded on the north by that of Thomas Barnes.

Hingham, Plymouth County, Mass., is located about twelve miles from Boston, by water, and twenty-six miles from Plymouth. It is bounded on the north by Boston Harbor, on the east by Cohasset, on the west by Weymouth, and on the south by Situate and Abington.

Hon. John D. Long, in the History of Hingham, Vol. I, page 201, says Hingham is one of the oldest towns in Massachusetts. There were settlers here as early as 1633. Its first name was Bare Cove, owing, probably, to the exposure, at low tide, of almost the entire bottom of the harbor or cove in front of the town.

So far as it had any legislative recognition, it was incorporated September 2, 1635, only eleven towns having, in that respect, an earlier date. Perhaps, however, the term incorporation is not appropriate in this connection, the brief order which the General Court, consisting of the Governor, assistants, and deputies, adopted and entered on that day being as follows: "The name of Bare Cove is changed and hereafter to be called Hingham."

Mr. Solomon Lincoln, the historian of Hingham, Mass., in 1827, gives the following interesting facts:

"The exact date at which any individual came here to reside cannot be ascertained. Among the papers of Mr. Cushing, there is a 'list of the names of such persons as came out of the town of Hingham, and towns adjacent, in the County of Norfolk, in the Kingdom of England, into New England, and settled in Hingham.' From this list we are led to believe there were inhabitants here as early as 1633, and among them Ralph Smith, Nicholas Jacob, with his family, Thomas Lincoln, weaver, Edmund Hobart and his wife, from Hingham, and Thomas Hobart with his family, from Windham, in Norfolk, England."

In 1635 there was a considerable increase of the number of settlers, and grants of land were made to upwards of fifty individuals, of which a record is preserved. In 1638 one hundred and thirty-three persons came in the ship "Diligent," John Martin, Master, and settled in Hingham. These first settlers were men of character and force, of good English blood, whose enterprise and vigor were evident in the very spirit of adventure and push which prompted their outset from the fatherland and their settlement in the new country. They were of the Puritan order, rather than of the Pilgrim element that settled at Plymouth a few years earlier. The distinction between the two is now well understood. The Pilgrims were Brownists or Separatists, later called Independents, opposed to the national church, insisting on separation from it, and reducing the religious system to the simplest form of independent church societies. It was natural that the spirit that led to reform and greater simplicity in church methods and organization, which was the aim of the Puritans, should go still further and demand entire separation and independence, which was Separatism, and of which the most illustrious type is found in the Pilgrims who sailed in the "Mayflower," and settled in Plymouth in 1620. Those who thus went to the extreme of ecclesiastical independence were consistent in granting the same liberty to others which they claimed for themselves; it is true that the Pilgrims were more tolerant than the Puritans.

There is sometimes, undoubtedly, an inclination to exaggerate the religious element in the early settlements of New England. It was a mixed purpose that animated our forefathers. There was in them the genius of adventure and enterprise, which in later days has peopled our own West with their descendants; there was the search for fortune in new countries over the sea; there was the spirit of trade and mercantile investment; there was the hope of new homes, and the ardor of new scenes, all clustering around what was unquestionably the central impulse, to find a larger religious freedom than the restrictions, legal or traditional, of the old country afforded. In these first settlements the ministers were the leaders. Their influence was supreme.

But with all this there was still, all the time, an immense deal of human nature. The picture of the early time, if it could be reproduced, would present a body of men and women engaged in the ordinary activities of life, cultivating the farms, ploughing the seas, trading with foreign lands and among themselves, engaged in near and remote fisheries, maintaining the school, the train-band, and the church, holding their town-meetings—a people not without humor, not altogether innocent of greed and quarrel and heart-burning, yet warm with the kind and neighborly spirit of a common and independent fellowship. They were neither visionary philosophers nor religious fanatics. Their early records deal with everyday details of farm and lot, of domestic affairs, of straying cattle and swine, of runaway apprentices and scolding wives, of barter with the Indians, of whippings and stocks and fines for all sorts of naughtinesses, of boundaries and suits, of debt and legal process and probate, of elections and petty offices, civil and military, with now and then the alarum of war and the inevitable assessment of taxes. They smack very much more of the common concerns of this world than of concern for the next.

The first church in Hingham was formed in September, 1635, by Rev. Peter Hobart of Hingham, England, who came in June of that year. Mr. Hobart was educated at Magdalene College, Cambridge, where he graduated in 1625. He declined the invitations of several settlements to become their pastor, preferring to join that at Bare Cove, where many of his fellow-townsmen in the old country were already established.

The first settlers of Eastern Massachusetts did not find the country covered with an unbroken forest; but from early writers we learn that there were large tracts of land entirely clear of trees and bushes, and that on the high lands, where any trees grew, in many places they stood at such distances apart that the grass grew luxuriantly between them. Mr. Grus, of Salem, wrote in 1627: "The country is very beautiful. Open lands, mixed in goodly woods, and again open plains, in some places five hundred acres, some more and some less. * * * * Not much troublesome to clear for the plough. The grass and weeds grow up to a man's face. In the low lands, and by fresh rivers, there are large meadows without a tree or bush."

The burning of the grass and leaves by the Indians is mentioned by Morton in 1632. He says: "The savages burn over the country that it may not be overgrown with underwood. It scorches the older trees, and hinders their growth."

Wood, in 1634, said: "In many places divers acres are cleared, so that one may ride a hunting in most places of the land. There is no underwood, save in the swamps and low grounds, for it being the custom of the Indians to burn the woods in November, when the grass is withered and leaves dried."

Thus it is evident that the first settlers of Hingham were not obliged to cut down the forest to clear the land before they could plant their crops; but they evidently found enough cleared to plant as many acres as they desired. It was the custom of the Indians to prepare the soil for a crop of Indian corn by placing in each hill, with the corn, three little fishes. This practice they taught the first settlers, who followed it until oxen were introduced, when the plough and ox labor were used instead of the hoe and hand labor.

At a very early period it was found necessary to grow other crops besides Indian corn. Pumpkins were among the first of garden crops; these were followed by the parsnip, carrot, turnip, onion, beet, and cabbage. Potatoes were not introduced into New England until 1719. Other field crops grown were wheat, rye, oats, barley, beans, flax, and hemp. The two last named were grown and used for making clothing.

The soil of Hingham is fair and in many places rich, and its successful cultivation led to the rapid increase in the number and area of the "planting fields" which were granted from time to time. The almost circular harbor, surrounded and protected on all sides by hills clothed with a growth of oak, pine, and cedar, and guarded at its entrance by three beautiful islands, which, like faithful sentinels, stood for protection against the storms, called attention to Hingham as an advantageous point for the construction of craft of various description and size, and the development of a prosperous foreign trade. Shipyards and wharves soon dotted the shore and multiplied with astonishing rapidity; and many a stately vessel received her baptism and commenced her perilous career in the little bay. The commerce which was subsequently one of the chief sources of local wealth began almost with the birth of the town.

CHAPTER II

THE ANCESTORS AND DESCENDANTS OF JESSE SMITH

FIRST GENERATION

1 RALPH¹ SMITH, of Hingham, Mass., was born probably about 1610, in Hingham, Norfolk, England.

The record of Ralph Smith's marriages has not been found. He was married to his first wife while in Hingham, Mass., where he remained until about 1653. As late as Sept. 22, 1652, he is spoken of in the probate records of Suffolk County, Mass., as "Ralph Smyth of Hingham" (N. E. Reg. VIII, 61). The baptisms of the four children born in Hingham are recorded there. The birth of his daughter, Deborah, on March 8, 1654, is recorded at Eastham, Mass., which establishes the date of his removal to that town as between Sept. 1652, and March, 1654. Freeman's History of Cape Cod (page 359), gives the list of legal voters in Eastham May 22, 1655, showing Ralph to be the only Smith there at that time. He took the "oath of fidelity" in Eastham on Oct. 25, 1657, and was made Constable of that town in 1660. (Plymouth Colony Records, VIII. 184.) In 1664 he was "trading" with Josias Hobart of Hingham, Mass.

After the death of his first wife he married Grace, the widow of Thomas Hatch, and the following "Court Order" indicates that he died before its date: "Oct. 27, 1685—Administration is granted by this court to Grace Smith, relict of Ralph Smith, and Samuel Smith, son to the said Ralph Smith, all of the town of Eastham, in the Colony of New-Plymouth in New-England, deceased, on all goods and chattels of said Ralph Smith." (Plym. Col. Rec. VI. 175.)

The name of this family in Norfolk County, England, was invariably spelled "Smyth," and Ralph continued to use this form during his life. His sons thereafter signed their name "Smith." The Astor Library in New York has the following record:

Smyth (Co. Norfolk, Eng.).

Arms: Argent, a chevron, gules, between three cross crosslets, sable.

Crest: An arm embowed, proper, tied round the wrist with a riband, azure, and holding a scimeter, or.

Children:

- 2 i Samuel², bapt. at Hingham, Mass., July 11, 1641; m. Mary Hopkins.
- 3 ii John, bapt. at Hingham, Mass., July 23, 1644; m. Hannah Williams.
- 4 iii Daniel, bapt. at Hingham, Mass., March 2, 1647; m. Mary Young.
- iv Elizabeth, bapt. at Hingham, Mass., Sept., 1648; no further record.
- 5 v Thomas, b. about 1649-1653, probably in Hingham, Mass.; m. Mary ———.
- vi Deborah, b. at Eastham, Mass., March 8, 1654. See Eastham records marked, "Meetings 1650-1705," page 13: "Ralph Smith a daughter named Deborough born 8 march 1654." No further record.

SECOND GENERATION

2 SAMUEL² SMITH (Ralph¹), of Eastham, Mass., was baptised in Hingham, Mass., July 11, 1641. His marriage is recorded in Eastham, January 3, 1665, to Mary³ Hopkins (Gyles,² Stephen¹), who was born in Yarmouth, Mass., 1640, and died in Eastham, March 20, 1696-7. He died March 22, 1696-7. He was a trader, and Constable of Eastham, 1670. His will, recorded Liber 2, Folio 47, mentions John, to have "ye half of two farms at Monomoy," and Mary, "ye half of two farms at Monomoy with her brother John." Eastham Records say he had a "sonne born and died in Mch, 1667." The births of his children are all recorded at Eastham.

Children:

- i Samuel,³ born in Eastham, Mass., May 26, 1668, died there Sept. 22, 1692. He married, May 26, 1690, Barthua Lathrop, daughter of Barnabas. Their children were: Samuel,⁴ born in Eastham, Feb. 13, 1690-1, married Abigail Freeman, Oct. 9, 1712, and Joseph,⁴ born in Eastham, Oct. 9, 1692, married Mary Hopkins, June 24, 1715. The two children had, in the distribution of their grandfather Samuel Smith's estate in 1697, equal shares with their uncle and aunt, as follows: "Samuel Smith and Joseph Smith issue of said eldest son, Samuel, shall have to them or their heirs forever a farm at Monomoy, that Cahoon lives on" (Liber 2, Folio 59).

- ii Mary, born in Eastham, January 3, 1669, married Daniel Hamilton, who was born in 1690 and died in Chatham, Mass., in 1738.
- iii Joseph, born in Eastham, April 10, 1671, died there, September 22, 1692.
- iv John, born in Eastham, May 26, 1673, and died in Chatham, Mass., before February 25, 1717. He married, May 14, 1694, Bethiah Snow, daughter of Stephen² Snow (Nicholas¹) and Susanna² Deane (Stephen¹). Her grandmother, Constance Hopkins, wife of Nicholas Snow, was the daughter of Stephen Hopkins of the "Mayflower." They had: James,⁴ born February 13, 1694-5, died, May 27, 1696; Samuel,⁴ born May 21, 1696; Deane,⁴ *John*⁴, *Stephen*⁴, *David*⁴, *Seth*⁴, *Mercy*⁴, *Mary*⁴, and *Bethia*⁴.
- v Grace, born in Eastham, Sept. 5, 1676, died there, Dec. 1, 1691.
- vi Deborah, born in Eastham, Dec. 10, 1678.

3 JOHN² SMITH (Ralph¹), of Eastham, Mass., was baptised in Hingham, Mass., July 23, 1644. He married, in Eastham, May 24, 1667, Hannah Williams, daughter of Thomas, of Plymouth, and Elizabeth Tate, who were married November 30, 1638. John Smith probably had nine children, but only Elizabeth and Sarah are recorded at Eastham. The will of Thomas Williams, dated May 10, 1692, gives John Smith, my grandchild, a lot of meadow land in Eastham.

Children:

- i Elizabeth³, born in Eastham, February 24, 1668.

- ii Sarah, born in Eastham, March 27, 1671-2.
- iii John, married Sarah ———. They may have had the following children, recorded at Eastham: *Hannah*⁴, born March 18, 1695; Joseph, December 28, 1697; Sarah, November 6, 1699; Williams, September 8, 1702; Lydia, April 24, 1704; Seth, January 28, 1706; Elizabeth, March 1, 1707-8; Rebecca, in May, 1709-10; John, March 13, 1712-3.

4 DANIEL² SMITH (Ralph¹), of Eastham, Mass., was baptised in Hingham, Mass., March 2, 1647. His will, dated May 11, 1716, entered for probate June 20, 1720, establishes his death before the date of probate. He married, in Eastham, March 3, 1676, Mary Young, daughter of John Young and Abigail Howland, born April 28, 1658. Births of his children are all recorded at Eastham.

Children:

- i Daniel³, born June 8, 1678.
- ii Content, born June 8, 1680; married Thomas Howes, December 11, 1701.
- iii Abigail, born April 30, 1683; married Joseph Neells, April 24, 1705.
- iv James, born in April, 1685; married Hannah Rogers, February 19, 1712-3.
- v Nathaniel, born in October, 1687; married Abigail Groce, daughter of Simon and Mary (Bond), August 18, 1716.
- vi Mary, born January 8, 1692-3, died February 16, 1705-6.

5 THOMAS² SMITH (Ralph¹), of Eastham, Mass., was probably born in Hingham, Mass., about 1649 to 1653. He married Mary ——— about 1681. The births of their children are recorded in the Eastham Records and shown in the "Mayflower Descendant," IV., 141, where the record of her death is given as follows: "Mary Smith Widdow and relict of Thomas Smith Dyed on the 22nd day of March anno domini 1726-7." The record of inhabitants of Eastham, Mass., who had been admitted before 1675, gives the name of Thomas

Smith and that of his brother, Samuel Smith. (N. E. Reg. VI. 41.) In 1691, Thomas Smith and Joseph Snow were appointed a committee to take charge of the Commons (Hist. Eastham, page 48). In 1693-1695, Thomas Smith was Representative to the General Court at Boston, Mass. (Hist. Eastham, page 103.) The date of his death is shown by the following will to be between May 10, 1720, and October 18, 1720.

Will of Thomas Smith, proved October 18, 1720 (Probate Records, Barnstable Co., Mass., Vol. 3, page 572):

In the name of God amen This Tenth Day of May 1720 I, Thomas Smith, of Eastham in the County of Barnstable in the Province of Massachusetts Bay In New England, yeoman, being in a weak and Low condition but of sound and Disposing minde and memory blessed be God for the same Do Therefore now make and appoint this my Last will and Testament in manner following That is to say I Recomend my Body to the earth to be Decently buried and my Soul to God that Gave it. - iv David, born in Eastham, Mass., in March, 1691.
- v Jonathan, born in Eastham, Mass., July 5, 1693.
- vi Isaac, born in Eastham, Mass., June 3, 1695; died there, April 26, 1704.
- 6 vii Jesse, born in Eastham, Mass., January 31, 1703-4.

THIRD GENERATION

6 JESSE³ SMITH (Sr.) (Thomas², Ralph¹), born in Eastham, January 31, 1703-4. His intention of marriage is recorded at Eastham, July 4, 1724. His marriage is recorded in the Eastham Record of Births, Deaths and Marriages, on page 61, as follows: "Jesse Smith and Sarah Higgins were married by Mr. Samuel Osborn in ye month of Sep. 1724." This record is followed by the birth of seven children: "Ruth, David, Prisila, Sarah, Eunis, Jerusa, and Jesse." These records were copied by the writer of this book, in October, 1904, from the original entries made by the Town Clerk of Eastham. They are now on file in the office of the Town Clerk of Orleans, Mass. Jesse Smith came to Dutchess County, N. Y., in 1756, with his wife, Sarah, and twelve children. The Eastham Records giving only seven children, we are unable to give accurate dates and names of the five born between the date of the birth of his son, Jesse, in 1736, and his arrival in New York state in 1756. His wife, Sarah, born July 13, 1706, in Eastham, Mass., died November 17, 1766, and lies buried in Gilead Burying Ground, at Carmel, N. Y. He died June 14, 1782, and the writer visited the old burying ground at Spencer's Corners, about two miles from Millerton, Dutchess County, N. Y., in 1903, and there saw his gravestone still standing, beside that of his son, Jesse.

His wife, Sarah Higgins, was the daughter of Benjamin³ Higgins (Benjamin², Richard¹), and Sarah⁴ Freeman (Lieut. Edmond³, Major John², Edmond¹). Major John Freeman married Mercy Prence, daughter of Governor Thomas Prence and Patience Brewster, who was the daughter of Elder William Brewster who came in the "Mayflower" in 1620. Thus may all descendants of Jesse Smith claim a "Mayflower Ancestor." In another part of this book is shown, more clearly, the lines connecting each descendant with this distinguished ancestor. See will of Benjamin Higgins, dated July 1, 1760, proved May 11, 1761 (Barnstable Probate Records, Vol. 12, page 153).

The following is an extract from a letter, dated December 15, 1904, written by Josiah Paine, of Harwich, Mass., the noted genealogist of Cape Cod: "You are right in placing Sarah Smith as daughter of Benjamin and Sarah Higgins. The will of Benjamin Higgins mentions 'Sarah Smith,' a daughter. Benjamin Higgin's wife was daughter of Edmond Freeman. So you are a descendant of William Brewster, as well as myself, and can join the Mayflower Society if you choose. It is an honor to be a descendant of the good old Mr. Brewster, the leader of the pilgrim band, whom Governor Bradford delighted to praise, and who well deserved it. There were nothing but rugged honesty and charity in his make up, and simplicity in his manner."

Jesse Smith settled near Carmel, N. Y. (now in Putnam County), where he was prominent in town and church affairs until his removal, after the death of his wife, to the Town of Northeast, Dutchess County, where he resided until his death. The following extract from a report of a survey made of lot number six, of Phillips Patent, Dutchess Co. (now Putnam Co.), shows the exact location of the farm where Jesse Smith settled, upon his arrival in New York state. This report may be found, in full, in Pelletreau's History of Putnam County, page 289.

"West line—Thursday, 17 October 1771, began to run the out bounds. Present, Beverly Robinson, Thomas Belden and Moss Kent, Esqrs., Began at a stake and a heap of stones on top of a hill by a walnut sappling, marked 'M. P.' on the west side and 'P. P.' on the east side and '1753' on the north side which heap of stones lyes in the line of the Manor of Cortland and is also the southeasterly corner of Lot No. 5, N. 9 degrees 9 minutes E. formerly 10 E. 962 chains 46 links * * * * at 235 chains crossed a run of water, runs to the right, at 244 chains James Belden's house 50 links to the right, at 246 chains crossed Belden's barn, at 243 chains made a monument of stones on the south side of a road in a run of water about 1 chain from Gabriel Carpenter's house in lot 5. In the "Field Book of the Survey of Lot No. 6," made April 12, 1762, by Benjamin Morgan, the following persons are mentioned as living on that part of the lot which is now embraced in the Town of Carmel: Jesse Smith, Daniel Phillips, Russell Gregory, Timothy Gregory, Rev. Elnathan Gregory, Isaac Smith, and others.

Rev. Ebenezer Knibloe was ordained and installed as pastor of the Western Church in Phillip's Patent. The call to Mr. Knibloe was brief and to the point, as follows: "We, the inhabitants of the Western Society of Phillipi do unite and call Mr. Ebenezer Knibloe preacher of ye gospel to take the pastoral care of us." This call was signed by Jesse Smith, Joseph Gregory and about fifty others. Mr. Knibloe remained here until July 11, 1759, when he removed to Amenias. The next pastor in Carmel was the Rev. Elnathan Gregory.

Pelletreau, in his History of Putnam County, on page 315, says: "Gilead Burying Ground is located about one mile southeast of the Village of Carmel and the oldest inscription is in memory of 'Sarah, wife of Mr. Jesse Smith, who died November 17, 1766.'"

Children:

- i Ruth⁴, born in Eastham, July 18, 1725; married Andrew Tracy, of Lisbon, Conn., March 30, 1743. She died October 13, 1809.
- ii David, born in Eastham, January 28, 1726-7.
- iii Priscilla, born in Eastham, July 20, 1729; married ——— Phillips, son of James Phillips.
- iv Sarah, born in Eastham, July 19, 1731.

- 7 vii Jesse, born in Eastham, February 1, 1736-7. The above are all recorded in Eastham.
- viii Lydia, married ——— Nickerson, living in 1759.
- ix Elizabeth, married Thomas Munson and was left a widow with two sons.
- x Elijah, born about 1744, died March 19, 1826, in Northeast, N. Y., aged 82. He married Lydia Munson, daughter of Ebenezer¹ Munson (Thomas⁸, Samuel², Thomas¹) and Abigail Hotchkiss. Lydia was born in Danbury, Conn., January 30, 1745, and died November 11, 1826. Both are interred at Spencer's Corners, N. Y.

FOURTH GENERATION

7. JESSE⁴ SMITH, Jr. (Jesse³, Thomas², Ralph¹), whose birth is recorded in Eastham, Mass., February 1, 1736-7, came to Dutchess County with his father in 1756. He died before his father, in Northeast, N. Y., December 12, 1777, only forty-one years of age—undoubtedly from disability incident to his service in the Revolutionary War. His gravestone in Spencer's Corners Burying Ground has the following inscription: "Mr. Jesse Smith, Jnr., died Dec. 12, 1777, in the 41st yr of his age." His wife is buried beside him. Her stone records that "Lydia, wife of Mr. Jesse Smith, Jnr., died October 7, 1791, aged 52." He married, in 1760, Lydia Gregory, daughter of Ephraim Gregory, of Danbury, Conn. She was born about 1739. Jesse Smith served in the Colonial and Revolutionary Wars, as shown by the documents hereinafter quoted. It is seldom one finds an ancestor who has served in two wars. Ours seems to have made this great record in his comparatively short life of forty-one years.

The following letter, in possession of the author, was directed, "To Mr. Jesse Smith Liveing at phillipse patten in Dutchess County this with care and Speed Deliver":

"Fort Stanwix, August ye 13: A. D. 1759.

"Honoured Father & Mother Dear & Cind Brother and Sisters I Send my kind Love to you hoping that Thes few Lines may find you all in Good health as thay leave me at this present time through ye Divine Goodness of God and I would Let you no that I Receaved 2 Letters from you Since I have been hear ye first Dated June ye 13; ye last July ye 14; which I heard Mother wase very poorely with ye Measels and Lidy and Elisabeth had them two and I pray that thes lines will find you all well and I Desire your prayers towards God for me & I Long to hear from you how it is with you all and I Beg that God will Be with you all and take Care of you and keep you from Sickness and Bless you If it is his will I wase very poorely for a few Days after I came up heare But I have Got prity harty and well and blessed be God for it So no more at present But I Still Remain your Son untill Death Jesse Smith."

This letter was written on the "eve of battle," yet see how carefully he conceals from his family any thought which might cause them anxiety.

Fort Stanwix was built, early in 1758, by an English general. Its name was changed to Fort Schuyler during the Revolutionary War. It was located at the "crossing" from the Mohawk River to Wood Creek, near Rome, N. Y. At the time the above letter was written it was occupied by about 3,000 men under Col. Bradstreet. The New York troops were in two detachments: the first under Lieut. Col. Charles Clinton of Ulster, with Captain Ogden of Westchester, Captain Peter Dubois of New York, Captain Sam. Bladgely of Dutchess, and Captain Daniel Wright of Queens; the second, under Lieut. Col. Isaac Corse of Queens, with Captain Elias Hand of Suffolk, Captain Richard Hewlet of Queens, Captain Thomas Arrowsmith of Richmond, Captain William Humphrey of Dutchess, and Captain Ebenezer Seely of Ulster.

The troops left Fort Stanwix, August 14, 1759, the day following the date of the above letter, and passed down Wood Creek in bateaux or open boats, through Oneida Lake to Oswego, thence down Lake Ontario and across the St. Lawrence River and landed within a mile of Frontenac (Kingston), on August 25, 1759. Frontenac surrendered to Lieut. Col. Corse, on August 27, and the magazines, etc., were destroyed by the Americans, who returned to Fort Stanwix on September 10, 1759. In 1760 Fort Stanwix was allowed to decay and was not again occupied until 1777, when the Battle of Oriskany was fought. (See Jones' Hist. Oneida Co., page 323.)

The name of Jesse Smith, Jr., appears on the "Roll of Honor," Dutchess County, in 1775. His date of enlistment, April 13, 1777, is given on page 164 of Saffel's Record of the Revolutionary War, and a copy of the issue of arms and equipments at Fort Montgomery, June 10, 1777, given in the New York Genealogical and Biographical Record for 1896, shows him to have been a member of Philip Dubois Bevier's Company of Colonel Louis Dubois' Regiment.

Children:

- 8 i Ephraim ⁵, born in Northeast, N. Y., April 8, 1761; married Miriam Thurston.
- 9 ii Elijah, born in Northeast, N. Y., about 1762; married Mary Rundel. He was of Freehold, Albany Co. (now Greene Co.), N. Y., in 1797.
- 10 iii James Phillips, born in Amenia, N. Y., July 22, 1764; married Ursula Adams.

FIFTH GENERATION

S EPHRAIM ⁵ SMITH (Jesse ⁴, Jesse ³, Thomas ², Ralph ¹), was born in Northeast, N. Y., April 8, 1761, and died in Amenia, N. Y., June 11, 1815. His gravestone is in Spencer's Corners Burying Ground. He married Miriam Thurston, April 10, 1783, in Sharon, Conn. (Sharon Records). She was the daughter of Joel ⁶ Thurston (John ⁵, David ⁴, John ³, Thomas ², John ¹) and Miriam Blakely of Pennsylvania. Miriam Thurston was born in Northeast, N. Y., September 27, 1765, and died in Amenia, N. Y., November 11, 1840 (Gravestone, Spencer's Corners). Ephraim was a captain in the Dutchess County militia during the Revolutionary War. Joel Thurston was an extensive land holder of Nine Partners. He removed to Easton, N. Y., after the war (Thurston Gen. 2d Ed. page 378).

Children:

- 11 i Lydia ⁶, born January 5, 1784; married Samuel Reynolds.
- 12 ii Rachael, born December 30, 1785; married Leonard Anson.
- iii Miriam, born December 4, 1787; died May 11, 1803, unmarried.
- iv Joel, born December 23, 1789; died January 1, 1809, unmarried.
- 13 v Polly, born March 4, 1792; married Gerard Pitcher.
- 14 vi Anna, born February 14, 1794, married David Collin.
- 15 vii Eunice, born June 12, 1796; married James Reed.

- viii John, born February 25, 1798; died March 27, 1819. He may have married, but no record has been found.

9 ELIJAH⁵ SMITH (Jesse⁴, Jesse³, Thomas², Ralph¹), was born about 1762, and both he and his wife, Mary Rundel, were living in October, 1797, when they signed the following deed. No record of any children has been found.

"To all people to whom these presents shall come Greeting Know ye that I Elijah Smith of freehold in the County of Albany, in the state of New York for the sum of forty-four pounds, Eight Shillings and Six pence current Money of the state of New York to me in hand paid by James P. Smith of the town of Amenia, in Dutchess County and state of New York before the en sealing of these presents, to my full satisfaction and content have given granted and by these presents do freely give grant and Quit claim unto the said James P. Smith his heirs and assigns forever two one-third parts of my third part of the land which was the Dower of my mother Lydia Smith, Deceased, which land is in the town of Amenia aforesaid To have and to hold, etc. * * *

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal the twenty sixth day of October in the twenty second year of American Independence. A. D. 1797.

Sealed and delivered	Elijah Smith (ss)
in the presence of	Mary Smith."
Elijah Smith
Ephraim Smith."

The witness, Elijah, was probably the brother of Jesse, Jr. Ephraim was a brother of James P., and of Elijah, the grantor. Freehold is now in Greene County.

10 JAMES PHILLIPS⁵ SMITH (Jesse⁴, Jesse³, Thomas², Ralph¹), was born in Amenia, N. Y., July 22, 1764, and died there, June 11, 1818. He married, January 26, 1786, in Sharon, Conn., Ursula Adams, daughter of Thomas and Rosanna Adams. She was born in Simsbury, Conn., on September 29, 1764, and died in Fayetteville, N. Y., on January 14, 1844.

Letters of administration were granted on the following petition, now on file in the Surrogate's Court, Dutchess County, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y.:

"Ambrose Smith of the Town of Amenia, Dutchess County, being sworn says that James P. Smith late of said Town and County died on or about the eleventh day of June without leaving any last will or Testament to his knowledge or belief, and that he died possessed of goods, chattels and credits to the value of about twelve hundred and fifty dollars to the best of his knowledge and belief. And this deponent further says that the said deceased left a widow Ursula Smith, and this deponent, Mercy Smith, Jesse Smith, Phebe Smith, Ursula Smith, James Smith, Hiram Smith and Lydia Smith as heirs at law, and further says not.

(Signed) Ambrose Smith.

"Sworn this 23d day of June 1818 before me

Derick B. Stockholm, Surrogate.

"I, Ursula Smith do hereby renounce my right of administration on the estate of my late husband James P. Smith and do request the Surrogate of Dutchess County to grant the same to Ambrose Smith and Jesse Smith, sons of the said deceased.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 23d day of June 1818.

"Ursula Smith (l. s.)"

His early life was spent on a farm in Northeast, Dutchess County, N. Y. On September 10, 1814, he enlisted for the War of 1812 in Captain Henry Perlee's company of Col. Belknap's 1st Regiment of N. Y. militia. His pension certificate, number 19261, in possession of the writer, is evidence that all his descendants are eligible to the Society of the War of 1812. He was stationed in what is now Central Park, in New York, and his stories of guarding wagon trains from the Battery to Central Park, over a corduroy road, and of the small value of the land on which Central Park is now located, are remembered by the writer. He removed to Onondaga County, N. Y., where he settled on the "Clark" farm, east of Fayetteville, in 1829. In 1835 he purchased the old homestead, west of Fayetteville, where he lived until he removed to his residence on Genesee street, Fayetteville, where he died. He was a consistent member of the Baptist church during his life. He was a director of the Fayetteville National Bank for many years.

In September, 1861, he enlisted as a sergeant in Troop A, 6th Cavalry, N. Y. Volunteers, under Captain Orne, on the present site of the Equitable Building in Pine street, New York (William Austin, of Fayetteville, enlisted at the same time as commissary sergeant of the same company). He was sent to Camp Scott, Staten Island, thence to York, Pa., Perryville, Md., and to Virginia, where he served as sergeant major and acting adjutant of the 6th Cavalry under Col. Devin until the fall of 1862, when he was sent to the Judiciary Square Hospital in Washington and was there discharged from the service upon the certificate of the surgeon-general that his case was hopeless. He returned to Fayetteville, and after ten months of illness regained his health. After his recovery, and in the fall of 1863, he removed to Fulton, N. Y., in the employ of the Oswego Railroad, and while there he organized Co. A. of the 184th N. Y. Infantry (Col. Robinson) and was elected captain. He resigned as captain and was mustered in as adjutant of the regiment, at Oswego, N. Y., and proceeded to Elmira, where he received orders to take command of the regiment and proceed to City Point (the Colonel not having joined). In command of the regiment he left Elmira for Baltimore, and there boarded the steamer "Daniel Webster" for City Point. General Grant was on board, bound for Norfolk. Mr. Smith was introduced to the General and spent an hour in conversation with him, and often remarked that he could never forget General Grant's description of Sherman's march from Chattanooga to Atlanta. At City Point he received orders for Bermuda Hundreds, arriving there September 22, 1864, and joining the 18th Army Corps. His illness returned soon after reaching camp and the following winter, while post adjutant at Harrison's Landing, he was again obliged to resign and return home, where he slowly recovered. After several business ventures he accepted a position, in 1868, as superintendent of weighers in the Custom House at New York, where he remained nine years. In 1879 he formed a co-partnership with former Sheriff Daggett, and took the contract to weigh all imports entering the port of New York that paid specific duty.

The Government deciding to abolish the contract system caused him to retire after three years, and he thereafter devoted his time to real estate until he organized and became vice president and cashier of the Bedford Bank of Brooklyn, where he remained until that bank was reorganized as the Bedford Branch of the People's Trust Company. He then accepted the presidency of the Brevoort Savings Bank of Brooklyn.

Mr. Smith has been prominent as a political leader for many years in the 23d Ward of Brooklyn, and was an organizer of the Union League Club of that city and a Presidential Elector on the Republican Ticket in 1892. He was also one of the incorporators of the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company, and of the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange, being the first treasurer of the latter. He was an organizer of the People's Trust Company, the Bedford Bank, the Brevoort Savings Bank, and others. He was treasurer of the organization which erected the equestrian statue of General Grant in Grant Square, Brooklyn.

He is a member of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, and an ex-president and member of the Union League Club of Brooklyn.

123 L BERTRAND ^s SMITH, son of Platt Hiram Smith and Katharine Snell, born in Fayetteville, N. Y., December 12, 1863, married, first, February 19, 1885, in Syracuse, N. Y., Ladye Love Hall, daughter of Thomas Jefferson Hall and Francesca Cleveland, born July 9, 1864, at Mt. Lebanon, La., died September 20, 1886, in Fayetteville. He married, second, December 10, 1896, in Brooklyn, N. Y., Florence Eugene Rector, daughter of Dwight Wellington Rector and Almira Beebe.

Mr. Smith attended school at the Fayetteville Academy until 1879, when he entered the Peekskill Military Academy at Peekskill, N. Y. In 1881 he returned to Fayetteville, where for about two years he was associated with Delancey Bartlett in the drug business, and during this period he learned telegraphy and acted as manager of the Mutual Union Telegraph Office, which was at that time located in the drug store. He then entered the store of Snell, Smith & Co., dealers in general merchandise. Mr. Smith enlisted in Company F., 51st Regiment, N. G. N. Y. (Captain Henry J. Knapp), and was promoted to first sergeant, which position he held when the regiment was mustered out. This company was stationed at Fayetteville, N. Y., the headquarters of the regiment (Col. J. W. Yale) being at Syracuse, N. Y. On February 19, 1885, he was married in the First Presbyterian Church of Syracuse, N. Y., to Ladye L. Hall, who died September 20, 1886, leaving a daughter one day old, who has made her home with Mr. Smith's parents. On December 15, 1886, Mr. Smith removed to Boston, Mass., where he was engaged in the stock brokerage business until September 29, 1890, when he removed to 131 Hancock street, Brooklyn, N. Y., and became treasurer of the Hildreth Manufacturing Co., at 53 Maiden Lane, engaged in the manufacture of gold rings.

On January 2, 1892, Mr. Smith became associated with Jere Johnson, Jr., a large real estate dealer, at 60 Liberty street, N. Y., with whom he remained until he was elected treasurer of Realty Trust, May 8, 1896. This corporation was formed by Mr. William Ziegler, who also organized the Royal Baking Powder Company and the two "Ziegler Polar Expeditions" commanded by E. B. Baldwin, 1901-2, and Anthony Fiala, 1903-4.

Mr. Smith enlisted as a private in the 2d Signal Corps, N. G. N. Y., on November 16, 1891, and was promoted to corporal April 10, 1893, sergeant February 10, 1894, and commissioned first lieutenant and assistant signal officer, 2d Brigade, September 5, 1894. He was transferred March 16, 1896, "with original rank," to Troop "C" of the N. G. N. Y. Cavalry, when it was organized under Captain B. T. Clayton. At the beginning of the Spanish-American War this troop was divided into two troops; one, under Captain Clayton, volunteered for the war and rendered distinguished service in Porto Rico. Lieut. Smith was commissioned captain of the remaining troop June 20, 1898, and became supernumerary upon its disbandment, January 14, 1899. He was married, at 35 McDonough street, Brooklyn, N. Y., on December 10, 1896, to Florence Eugene Rector, and resided at 48 McDonough street, Brooklyn, until November, 1905, when he removed to his present residence, at 99 McDonough street.

Mr. Smith is a trustee of the Brevoort Savings Bank of Brooklyn; vice-president and director of the Smith Visible Typewriter Co.; treasurer and director of Realty Trust; director of the New York Tartar Company, director of the Ziegler Publishing Company for the Blind, and a member of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, the Long Island Historical Society, the National Geographical Society, the Society of Colonial Wars, the Society of the War of 1812, the Sons of the Revolution, the Pilgrims of the United States, the American Automobile Association, the Society of the Onondagas, the New York State Automobile Association, the Crescent Athletic Club of Brooklyn, the Long Island Automobile Club of Brooklyn, and the Veteran Association of the Second Company, Signal Corps.

BREWSTER

William¹, born in 1566-7; died in Plymouth, Mass., April 20, 1644; married, before 1593, Mary ———.

Patience², died in 1634; married, in 1624, Gov. Thomas Prence. 271.

The story of the "Mayflower" and Plymouth Rock is the story of the formation of a little Separatist or Congregational Church at Scrooby, England, its escape to Holland, its migration from thence to Plymouth, and its establishment there as the first embodiment in America of freedom in the church and equality in the State.

William Brewster cradled the church at Scrooby, in his own home. He devoted his means to the support of its ministers and the succor of its members. After suffering fine and imprisonment and risking his life for this heresy, he helped the little flock to Holland, where his duty as elder intrusted him especially with the discipline and building up of the church and the preservation therein of soundness of doctrine. This duty he successfully performed with great gentleness and equal firmness. While in Leyden his arrest was sought for publishing Protestant books for circulation in England and Scotland.

That he drafted the Compact of November 21, 1620, in the cabin of the "Mayflower" seems almost certain. That he was the moral, religious, and spiritual leader of the Colony during its first years of peril and struggle, and its chief civil adviser and trusted guide until the time of his death, is quite certain. But for his ecclesiastical position he would have been Governor of the Colony. He was of gentle birth, educated at Cambridge, a courtier before he was twenty years of age, in high esteem with Her Majesty's Secretary of State, treated by him more like a son than a servant, and soon a member of the English Embassy at Holland. And this scholar worked with his own hands to build his house in Plymouth, and afterwards in Duxbury, and up to the age of nearly eighty years helped to cultivate his own farm. His library was inventoried at his death, in 1644, at four hundred volumes. For thirty years his learning and knowledge were devoted constantly, utterly, and superbly to the people with whom he had cast his hazardous lot. All he could learn he freely imparted to those he taught. There is no record that he ever asked for or received any salary. He was a scholar and preacher from the people, with the people, for the people, and to the people, and in their close companionship of toil and danger the people did indeed hear him gladly. Of their place of worship and order of assembling De Rasiere gives this interesting sketch:

"Upon the hill they had a large square house, with a flat roof, made of thick sawn planks, stayed with oak beams, upon the top of which they have six cannons, which shoot iron balls of four and five pounds, and command the surrounding country. The lower part they use for their church, where they preach on Sundays and the usual holidays. They assemble by beat of drum, each with his musket or firelock, in front of the captain's door; they have their cloaks on, and place themselves in order, three abreast, and are led by a sergeant without beat of drum. Behind comes the Governor, in a long robe; beside him on the right hand comes the preacher with his cloak on, and on the left hand the captain with his sidearms and cloak on, and with a small cane in his hand; and so they march in good order, and each sets his arms down near him. Thus they enter their place of worship, constantly on their guard night and day."

The devout elder was regarded with the utmost veneration and reverence in his later years by the colonists of the eight towns into which the little settlement of 1620 had grown. The popular impression of the old patriarch pictures him with the austere severity and rigid narrowness of an old iron-sides. Nothing could be further from the truth. Of his personal qualities Bradford says:

"He was wise and discreet and well spoken, having a grave and deliberate utterance, of a cheerful spirit, very sociable and pleasant amongst his friends, of an humble and modest mind, undervaluing himself and his own abilities, and sometimes overvaluing others. He had a singular good gift in prayer, both public and private. He always thought it were better for ministers to pray oftener, and divide their prayers, than be long and tedious in the same."

How superior the wise, peaceful, just, and courageous policy of the Plymouth Colony, in its treatment of the Indians and its fellow colonies! And the man who always had the last word in these important matters—the Joshua and Nestor of the plantation—was Elder

William Brewster. (From an address by the Hon. Lyman D. Brewster.)

Lieut. Thomas Tracy came to America in the interests of his friends, Lord Say and Lord Brook, and settled in Salem in 1636, where land was granted him. He was a talented and active man and much interested in shipbuilding. He was one of the thirty-five original proprietors of Norwich in 1659, and was Representative of Norwich to the Legislature for twenty-seven sessions. In 1645 he and Thomas Leffingwell, with others, released Uncas, the sachem of the Mohegans, when he was besieged, and Uncas afterwards gave four hundred acres of land to Thomas Tracy and Thomas Leffingwell.

Lieut. Thomas Tracy married (1) Mrs. Mason, widow of Edward Mason; (2) Martha, daughter of Thomas Bourne and widow of John Bradford, in 1679. Thomas Tracy died November 7, 1685, and was buried in Norwich.

Mary Tracy, his daughter, married Francis Griswold. She was a great-grandmother of the writer.

ANCESTORS OF

Rudolph ¹.

Johan Jost ².

Johan Jost ³.

Frederick ⁴, killed in the Battle of Oriskany, August 6, 1777; married Maria Herkimer. 305.

Frederick Nicholas ⁵, born October 13, 1774, in Lassellsville, N. Y.; died July 7, 1844, in Mindenville, N. Y.; married, November 19, 1798, in Lassellsville, N. Y., Elizabeth Snell. 303.

Levi ⁶, born January 10, 1811, in Lassellsville, N. Y.; died in Fayetteville, N. Y., October 22, 1886; married, in Lassellsville, N. Y., November 18, 1835, Lucinda Crouse. 302.

Katharine ⁷, born in Mindenville, N. Y., December 11, 1837; married, June 18, 1862, in Fayetteville, N. Y., Platt Hiram Smith. 201.

Rudolph ¹ was a professor in a German University, the name at that time being "von Snellin." A tradition of the family is that three brothers came from Manheim, Germany, about 1755. One settled in Vermont, another in Tillebrough, Fulton County, N. Y., and the third at Snell's Bush, Town of Manheim, Herkimer County, N. Y. Another tradition says Johan Jost ³ came in the "Nep-tune" in 1754. A grant of 3,600 acres was made to Johan Jost ³ Snell and Jacob Timmerman in 1755, in Herkimer County. It is recorded that there were nine sons of Johan Jost ³ Snell in the Battle of Oriskany and that seven were killed on that day. So far as the writer has been able to obtain them, the names of the sons of Johan Jost ³ who died on that battlefield were Frederick, Nicholas, Suffrenus, Joseph, Jacob, George, and John. A son of George, named John, was also killed there. The story of this bloody Battle of Oriskany, giving full credit to these hardy pioneers, has never been written. It was made up of hand to hand struggles in a forest, or rather in a swamp. Of General Herkimer's force of about eight hundred Palatine farmers, barely one-half lived after that terrible three hours.

It is recorded that four of the sons of Johan Jost Snell gave to the town seven acres of land for a church, and twelve acres for a school. The church and school are still in use on the property. Frederick Nicholas⁵ kept a tavern at State Road, about one mile from Lassellsville, N. Y. His son, Volkert, married Elizabeth Klock; Christopher married Nancy Quackenbush; Hiram married Katherine E. Roof; Nancy married Marshall Warner; Elizabeth married Nicholas Miller; Gertrude married Frederick Erkenbreck; Maria married Henry Sponable; Katharine married Ransford Christy, and Levi married Lucinda Crouse.

Frederick Nicholas⁵ and his wife, Elizabeth, are both interred in the St. Johnsville, N. Y., Cemetery. His son, Levi⁶, was a grocer at Mindenville, N. Y., in 1834. He removed to Manlius Center, N. Y., in 1846, where he, in partnership with Jacob Crouse, his brother-in-law, conducted the firm of Snell & Crouse until 1850, when he removed to Fayetteville, N. Y., where he was in business for many years under the firm name of Snell & Smith, etc. He was director and vice-president of the National Bank of Fayetteville, N. Y., for many years, until his death. He was a man of strict integrity and was greatly respected by his fellow citizens. He and his wife, Lucinda, were consistent members and regular attendants of the Fayetteville Baptist Church during their residence in that village. They were also generous contributors to the church and its charities. They are revered to this day by many who were the recipients of their quiet and unostentatious charity. Their son, Oscar, born March 26, 1839, died August 25, 1855; and their daughter, Ella Eugenia, who was born October 12, 1855, died February 15, 1863. All are interred in the Fayetteville Cemetery. Their daughter, Katharine, mother of the writer, is still living the same quiet, Christian life lived by her father and mother, at their former home, on the north side of Genesee street, a short distance east of Mill street, Fayetteville, N. Y., where, on September 20, 1886, she took upon herself the care of her infant granddaughter, a motherless babe, one day old, and has brought her up to womanhood.

Jacob¹, born in Minden, Germany, in 1690; died in Fort Plain, N. Y., March 27, 1778; married in Fort Plain, N. Y., June 24, 1724, Katharine E. Nellis.

George², born in Fort Plain, N. Y., August 5, 1740; died in Mindenville, N. Y., September 28, 1824; married, in Fort Plain, May 21, 1765, Katharine Klock. 313.

Jacob³, born May 9, 1769; died July 13, 1819; married, January 4, 1794, Katharine Nellis. 307.

George⁴, born in Mindenville, N. Y., August 29, 1795; died in Syracuse, N. Y., August 25, 1875; married Maria Diefendorf. 304.

Lucinda⁵, born in Mindenville, N. Y., October 23, 1818; died in Fayetteville, N. Y., September 17, 1882; married, November 18, 1835, Levi Snell. 301.

Jacob¹ came from Minden, Saxony, in the spring of 1710, and settled in the town of Canajoharie, Tryon County, N. Y., now Fort Plain. See Number 801. He owned a large tract of land, from about the center of Fort Plain, running west. A part is still owned and occupied by his descendants. George² was in the Battle of Oriskany, a private, Tryon County militia. Jacob³ served at Sackett's Harbor as captain 11th Regiment (Rich's) from August 24, 1812, to February 24, 1813. George⁴ also served at Sackett's Harbor. His commissions, signed by Governor Daniel D. Tompkins to George I. Crouse, as ensign, May 10, 1815, and lieutenant, April 17, 1816, both in the 138th N. Y. Infantry, are in the possession of his grandson, Charles M. Crouse, of Syracuse, N. Y. The baptism of each of his children is recorded in the Dutch Reformed Church (Dominie Wach), Fort Plain, N. Y. He removed to Syracuse, N. Y., in 1859. His son, Jacob, married Eliza Mabie; Henry married Louise Ransford; Catherine married William H. Plank; Mary married James Boyd; Abram and Daniel died unmarried; Lucinda married Levi Snell. She was a grandmother of the writer.

————— Matice.

Elizabeth², born October 13, 1775; died February 26, 1847, in Lassellsville, N. Y., or Mindenville, N. Y.; married, November 19, 1798, in Lassellsville, N. Y., Frederick Nicholas Snell. 301.

The writer regrets that he has been unable to discover the ancestors of Elizabeth. She was undoubtedly of the same family as her husband, but the connection has not been proved. She was a great-grandmother of the writer.

DIEFENDORF

Henry¹, killed in the Battle of Oriskany; married
—————.

Henry², born in 1772; died February 18, 1834; married, in 1792, Maria Fox.

Maria³, born in 1793; died September 27, 1830; married George Crouse. 302.

Henry¹ was first lieutenant in Captain Elias Van Benschoten's company, 3d Regiment, N. Y. Line, Col. Peter Gansevoort, November 21, 1776; first lieutenant in Captain Joseph McCracken's company, 1st Regiment, N. Y. Line, Col. Goose Van Schaick, in January, 1777; captain in Tryon County militia, Col. Nicholas Herkimer, and killed in action at the Battle of Oriskany, August 6, 1777. His name is on the Oriskany Monument. Henry² married, second, August 21, 1797, Nancy Maria Lipe, who was born January 11, 1775, and died February 7, 1809. He married, third, July 4, 1814, Catherine Barbara Sanders. Maria³ was a great²-grandmother of the writer.

HERKIMER

Johan Jost ¹, died in August, 1775; married ————. Maria ², or Lana, married Nicholas Snell. 301.

Johan Jost ¹ was the father of General Nicholas Herkimer, who was in command at the Battle of Oriskany. Maria (or she may have been called Lana) was a great ²-grandmother of the writer.

Henry ¹, died at Frey's Bush, N. Y.; married ————. George H. ².

Katharine ³, born November 18, 1770; died August 12, 1838; married, January 4, 1794, Jacob Crouse. 302.

George H. ² was colonel of the 138th Regiment of 11th Brigade (General Richard Dodge). See A. G. O. N. Y., April 13, 1812, and was afterwards made general. Katharine ³ was a great ²-grandmother of the writer.

Katharine ², born January 10, 1742; died July 17, 1819; married, May 20, 1765, George Crouse. 302.

Katharine ² was probably a descendant of a brother of Col. J. G. Klock, who was in the Battle of Oriskany. She was a great ³-grandmother of the writer.

ANCESTORS OF
THOMAS JEFFERSON HALL

Edward¹, died November 27, 1670; married Esther

Samuel², born October 24, 1656; died in 1733, in Enfield, Conn.; married, April 7, 1686, Elizabeth Bourne.

Ichabod³, married, June 25, 1730, Lois Kibbe. 409.

Ebenezer⁴, born November 5, 1731, in Enfield, Conn.; married, in 1753, Anna Pease. 405.

Isaac⁵, born July 22, 1764; married Vashti Johnson. 403.

Johnson⁶, born January 6, 1794, in Sheffield, Mass.; died October 27, 1870, in Syracuse, N. Y.; married, December 6, 1818, Mary Andrews. 402.

Thomas Jefferson⁷, born April 6, 1831, in La Fayette, N. Y.; died March 17, 1871, in New Orleans, La.; married, June 2, 1850, in Syracuse, N. Y., Francesca Cleveland. 501.

Ladye Love⁸, born July 9, 1864, in Mt. Lebanon, La.; died September 20, 1886, in Fayetteville, N. Y.; married, February 19, 1885, in Syracuse, N. Y., L Bertrand Smith. 201.

Edward¹ came from England, in 1636, and settled in Salisbury, and removed to Rehoboth, Mass., in 1655. He served in the Narragansett Expedition in 1654. See Society of Colonial War's book; also "Hall Family Records," page 695; also History of Enfield. Ebenezer⁴ was in the Revolutionary War. He removed from Enfield to Tyringham, Berkshire County, Mass., and thence to New Marlboro, Mass. Isaac⁵ was also in the Revolutionary War. Johnson⁶ removed to La Fayette, N. Y., and was postmaster from the organization of La Fayette until his removal, in 1837, to Syracuse, where he was supervisor for many years. He was a member of the Assembly, 1829-30; sheriff, 1831; and Judge, until his death. Thomas Jefferson⁷ served as a major in the Confederate army during the Civil War.

ANDREWS

John¹, died June 25, 1679, in Boston, Mass.; married Hannah Jackson. 449.

John², born September 20, 1662, in Boston, Mass.; died June 25, 1742; married Alice Shaw. 425.

Samuel³, born in 1694; died in 1756, in Dighton, Mass.; married Mary Pitts.

Job⁴, born April 13, 1745; died in Wolford, Canada; married, in Johnsburg, N. Y., Hannah Baker. 407.

Job⁵, born November 28, 1770; died September 22, 1835, in La Fayette, N. Y.; married, July 17, 1792, in Easton, N. Y., Comfort Greene. 404.

Mary⁶, born June 24, 1798, in Easton, N. Y.; died September 28, 1854, in Syracuse, N. Y.; married, December 6, 1818, in La Fayette, N. Y., Johnson Hall. 401.

John¹ came from Wales and was living in Boston in 1636. See Genealogy of the Andrews Family, by Lieut. George Andrews. John² removed to Bristol, R. I., in 1692; thence to Taunton, Mass., in 1701, where he was chairman of the Board of Selectmen for four years, deputy sheriff, etc. Samuel³ was corporal in Capt. James Andrews' company of Col. Thatcher's regiment on the expedition to Crown Point, and was charged 40 shillings for losing his gun February 26, 1756. He died at Albany, N. Y., while in the service. Capt. James Andrews was his nephew. Job⁴ removed in 1798 or 1799 to the township of Walford, Canada, where he died. Bible record of G. B. Andrews, Longwood, Wis. Job⁵, Jr., lived in Easton, Washington County, N. Y., until 1806, when he removed to La Fayette, Onondaga County. Mary⁶ was a grandmother of Ladye L. Hall.

John¹, married, October 31, 1740, in Boston, Mass.,
Mary Strong.

Jacob², born August 17, 1741, in Boston, Mass.; died in 1794, in Sheffield, Mass.; married —————.

Vashti³, born January 27, 1766; died November 19,
1813; married Isaac Hall. 401.

John¹ was aged 57, in Marlboro, Mass., in March, 1685-6 (Bond). Jacob's² will, dated March 4, 1794, proved in April, 1794, at Sheffield, Berkshire County,
Mass., named, among others, his daughter Vashti Hall.
Vashti was a great-grandmother of Ladye L. Hall.

404

ANCESTORS OF
DWIGHT WELLINGTON RECTOR

RECTOR

Henry¹.

Matthew², died before June 20, 1883, aged about 80; married Susan Macomber. 602.

Dwight Wellington³, born September 15, 1826, in Duaneburg, N. Y.; died in East Troy, Wisconsin; married Almira Beebe. 701.

Florence Eugene⁴, born in Milwaukee, Wis.; married, at 35 McDonough street, Brooklyn, N. Y., December 10, 1896, L Bertrand Smith. 201.

The father of Matthew came to America from Germany. No further record has been found. Matthew lived in Duaneburg, N. Y., and later purchased a farm near Esperance, N. Y. Dwight Wellington was a physician. His early life was spent near his home town until he went to Albany, N. Y., to study medicine. He graduated from the medical college at that place in 1852. Shortly after graduation he removed to Milwaukee, Wis., where for five years he practiced his profession. He then removed to Mukwonago, Wis., continuing his practice until the outbreak of the Civil War, when he volunteered as a surgeon until the end of the war, when he resumed practice at East Troy, Wis. Besides Florence Eugene, he had one daughter, Anna Mary, born August 15, 1855, died in Waukesha, Wis., June 28, 1891; married, in Brooklyn, N. Y., November 30, 1882, to Adolph Frederick Estberg of Waukesha, Wis. They had two children, born in Waukesha, Howard Claes, born September 8, 1883, and Florence Helen, born April 3, 1887. Mr. Estberg afterwards married Florence Cass, November 7, 1900.

Florence Eugene⁴ resided with her stepfather, Howard M. Smith, until her marriage, in 1896, to his nephew, the writer, in whose home she has made herself invaluable. A perfect wife, a perfect mother, what greater tribute can be paid?
